ONLY SIX NOW IN ARIZONA DEATH ROSTER

Five of Condemned Men Have New Trials Pending, Which Reduces Number to Hang December 19.

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 4.—Only six of the eleven men doomed to die December 19 will be hung that day, according to late advices from the state penitentiary. The six will hang one at a time, the state having refused to allow the warden, R. H. Sims, to erect a scaffold capable of accommodating all the men at one time.

Governor Hunt has been notified that five of the condemned men whom he reprimed to December 19 have applications for new trials pending in the supreme court. This cuts down the doomed list to a half dozen.

Warden Sims has received his instructions to use the regular execution apparatus at the prison, which is of one-man capacity.

The six remaining condemned men long ago exhausted all their efforts to obtain new trials.

Scaffold Offer Rejected. "My opinion is that the construction of a special scaffold in the prison yard, the only place available for it, would have a most undesirable effect on the other prisoners," Governor Hunt said later. "The regular scaffold, built into one of the buildings, is never seen by the convicts. Warden Sims, I am sure, will take the men quietly from the death cells to the place of execution and the hangings will be attended by as little stir of publicity as possible."

Those who have succeeded in gaining at least a few more weeks of existence by appealing to the supreme court for new trials are: Richard Dayton Tally, of Gila county; W. W. Kermeen, of Cochise; Francisco Garcia, Atha L. Leonard and John Tonkin, of Maricopa. Those who must be hanged on the day set are: N. B. Chavez, Eduardo Perez, William Campbell, Miguel Perlata, Yavapai county; Francisco Rodriguez, Maricopa; Charles Shaffer, Gila.

The governor has practically decided to have tested in the courts that section of the penal code removing his power to pardon, commute and respite prisoners, and placing it in the hands of a board. This section was referred to the voters and upheld by them November 3.

In a letter postmarked El Paso, but dated merely "On the Trail," Agnes Heeps Fair announces that she is coming to Arizona to hold a series of "protest meetings" and prevent the execution of the men.

"I am coming into Arizona to hold a series of protest meetings against capital punishment," Mrs. Fair wrote. "In this enlightened age we know that we might be above cannibalism. The women have decided on military methods of warfare if these men are hung. Unless you want the English women left off, don't hang these men. The laws of Arizona permit us women to raise hell and potatoes at the same time."

MINISTER MUST APPLY
STAMP TO MARRIAGE
CERTIFICATE, IS HELD

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 4.—That the minister, and not the clerk, the contracting party or the witnesses must apply the 10 cent revenue stamp demanded on marriage certificates is the opinion of John L. Zimmerman, deputy internal revenue collector. There has been some discussion as to who should perform this office. Mr. Zimmerman believes the minister should add it to his other functions in the case and should collect 10 cents to pay for the stamp in addition to his usual fee.

The revenue office here now has 4,000 1-cent documentary stamps on hand to supply to various users in the state.

There are few stamps of large denominations to be had. Alvan N. White, superintendent of public instruction, in executing a deed yesterday, had to apply 50 cent stamps, canceling each with his initials and the date, in lieu of a single one-dollar stamp.

The report covers the last half of 1912 as well as the fiscal years 1913 and 1914, the present board having taken charge in July, 1912. It shows total receipts during the period covered of $35,551.62, and expenses of $35,526.55, leaving a balance of July 15, 18 on hand at the end of the fiscal year just closed.

The farming system now followed in connection with the school is shown to have cost in operation and equipment $1,061.84 in 1912, and $757.31 in 1914.
